

Mrs. Gilfillan's Class News

October 14, 2019

rgilfillan@wcpss.net

Gilfillansecondgrade.weebly.com

Parent Conferences

Parents, please find the conference sign up form in today's folder, and fill in the times that are convenient for you. Please return the form as soon as possible.

Curriculum this Week

Math

We continue with 2 digit addition and subtraction strategies this week, but also include ways to add and subtract with regrouping and ungrouping.

I will be assessing each student with the NKT math assessment this week.

Literacy

We will continue with our study of the informational book Off to Class by Susan Hughes this week. Students will practice more with taking notes from an informational text and then writing a paragraph about the problem and solution mentioned in the text. Students will work with writing partners to help plan, write and revise their writing. Then students will write independently for an assessment.

Science

We continue with our study of Sound in the How the World Works Unit. Students will participate in several lessons with our Artist in Residence, Beverly Botsford, and give a performance for parents on Monday, October 21st at 9:40 am. Please see the parent invitation included in today's folder.